EXHIBITIONS and COLLABORATIONS with CULTURAL INSTITUTIONS

Advisory Panel, Westminster Abbey Seal Bags Project. Project leaders: Matthew Payne, Keeper of the Muniments, Westminster Abbey; Elizabeth New (Aberystwyth); Helen Wyld (National Museums Scotland); Corinne Muehleemann (Bern). Currently applying for Arts and Humanities Research Council (AHRC) funding.

Guest Curator, Jan 26-April 6, 2023 in the Cantor Gallery at the College of the Holy Cross: Bringing the Holy Land Home: The Crusades, Chertsey Abbey, and the Reconstruction of a Medieval Masterpiece. Loans from the British Museum, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Morgan Library & Museum in New York City, the Dumbarton Oaks Collection in Washington, DC, Harvard University Art Museums, the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, and the Worcester Art Museum.

The exhibition was awarded funding from the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Gladys Krieble Delmas Foundation, the ICMA (International Center of Medieval Art) and the Samuel H. Kress Foundation, and associated research was funded by the Paul Mellon Centre for British Art. An exhibition catalogue including scholarly essays was published by Harvey Miller.

Outreach for Bringing the Holy Land Home included personal tours which I gave both in person and occasionally over Zoom to U.S. university groups including Harvard University, Syracuse University, Fordham University, the University of New Hampshire, Portland State University, and Brown University, as well as the U.K.-based Chertsey Society, and local youth including from Worcester Public Schools, Al-Hamra Academy, the Girl Scouts, and Shrewsbury Public Schools. I also gave personal tours to individual faculty from Harvard University, Boston College, and Yale University.

I was responsible for creating, with substantial support from a team of Holy Cross students and staff, a 300-page website, including 40 videos as well as 3d scans, interactives, etc., to support “Bringing the Holy Land Home.” The site is available to interested parties from across the globe and also tied to the exhibition through the use of dozens of QR codes on labels within the exhibition, enabling visitors to the exhibition to immediately access the relevant content using their smartphones. See <https://chertseytiles.holycross.edu>

The exhibition was one of two highlighted by the NEH Division of Public Programs in their January 2023 newsletter.

Review of exhibition website by popular medieval historian Dan Jones, entitled “This New Exhibition is Extremely Cool,” who called the online portion of the exhibition “absolutely splendid, “brilliantly informative,” “pitched perfectly for a lay and scholarly audience alike,” and “a model for all other medieval/art historical shows to follow,” at https://danjones.substack.com/p/this-new-exhibition-is-extremely?utm\_source=profile&utm\_medium=reader2

The National Archives (London) has linked to our exhibition website from their Education site, which has a section on Chertsey Abbey.
<https://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/education/resources/chertsey/>

My research was foregrounded at a temporary exhibition at the Chertsey Museum, United Kingdom, “Chertsey Abbey Tiles,” 12 November 2022 - 21 January 2023.

Consultant, travelling art exhibition addressing the experience of prisoners of war in China in World War II, Mukden Allied Force POW Camp. Northeastern University in Shenyang, China. 2022.

Consultant, Winchester Cathedral Medieval Tile Project, in conjunction with Dr. Katrin Wilhelm, Oxford University Heritage Network. 2021.

Consulted on the reinstallation of the South/Southeast Asia gallery at the Worcester Art Museum. 2017.

Consulted on the reinstallation of the Medieval galleries at the Worcester Art Museum. 2015.
